

ALPHA CHI OMEGA NAMES CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

INDIANAPOLIS, October 12, 2026 – After a nationwide search, Alpha Chi Omega is proud to announce Alicia L. Antonetti-Tricker (Theta Pi, University of California, Davis) has joined the Alpha Chi Omega staff as the next chief executive officer for the Fraternity, Foundation, National Housing Corporation and Pearl Stone Partners.

Alicia spent the past 25 years at Crowe LLP, one of the nation's largest public accounting and consulting firms. Most recently serving as managing principal of Crowe's Indianapolis office, she led consulting initiatives for nonprofit, government and higher education clients on initiatives spanning strategy, technology, finance, talent, transformation, process and operations.

Throughout her career, she has worked to advance women in her profession. As a founding council member and later leader of Women Leading @ Crowe, she helped build the firm's women's leadership initiative and launched the WL@C Grow program to advocate for and support the next generation of firmwide women leaders.

“We are excited about the ways Alicia's professional background, experience with building and supporting teams, and passion for women's advancement will benefit Alpha Chi Omega,” said Jennifer Daurora, Alpha Chi Omega National President. “As our organization continues to grow and adapt, Alicia is uniquely qualified to lead Alpha Chi Omega in this role as she supports our staff, volunteers and members.”

Alicia shared, “Nearly 30 years ago, Alpha Chi Omega invested in me as a collegian, helping shape the leader, professional and woman I am today. It is both an honor of a lifetime and the privilege of my career to return to the organization as chief executive officer, working alongside our sisters, governing boards, volunteers, donors and staff to build on our strong foundation and shape the future of the Real. Strong. Women.® Experience.”

As Katie Lampinen Gaffin (Delta Zeta, Central Michigan University) prepares to retire, she reflected on her tenure as CEO, sharing, “I’m proud of all Alpha Chi Omega has achieved over the last decade and grateful I was able to play a part in our collective success. Serving as chief executive officer has been an incredible privilege. I'm leaving this role in extremely capable hands, and I look forward to seeing the ways Alicia will lead our organization in seeking the heights." Katie will temporarily remain on staff to finalize projects and ensure a smooth leadership transition.

Alicia was initiated into the Theta Pi chapter of Alpha Chi Omega at the University of California, Davis, where she earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in political science and sociology. She holds a Master of Public Affairs degree in policy analysis from Indiana University. She is a certified Project Management Professional, a SHRM Senior Certified Professional and a Prosci® Certified Change Practitioner.

Alicia lives in central Indiana with her husband, Troy; their daughter, Exley, attends college in Michigan.
